ADDITIONAL SOLICITATION CLAUSES

SECTION L PAST PERFORMANCE INFORMATION 15.305(A)(2)(II) OCT/1997 AND OTHER REQUIRED INFORMATION

L-11 Offerors shall submit the following information for NAICS Code 332993, NSN: 8140-01-108-2667 and 8140-01-102-1086 as a part of their proposal:

Information to be submitted: Offerors shall provide Best Value information by addressing each factor/sub-factor in the format and sequence identified in the solicitation. The offerors must provide information in sufficient detail to allow the Government to make best value assessment of the offeror's Technical Ability, Past Performance and Price. The offeror shall also provide Best Value information for key subcontractors that he has identified. Best value data shall be submitted in an original and two hard copies. The following information is to be submitted:

Factor 1: Price: The offeror shall submit firm fixed prices in Schedule B of the solicitation for Line Item 0001 and Line Item 0002, with and without First Article. Also, the offeror may submit separate prices for each Line Item in the evaluated option clause in Section I of the solicitation. If the offeror does not quote option prices, the lowest price(s) offered/bid in the schedule for items 0001 and 0002 shall be the prices used for evaluation/award of any option quantities. All evaluation factors (total basic and option prices), will be applied to determine total evaluated price.

Factor 2: Technical Ability (Special Skills): The offeror shall provide information regarding their technical expertise, equipment and processes utilized. The offeror may also provide evidence of related certifications or capabilities that would enhance the technical expertise associated with fabrication, welding or plating that is required for the manufacture of the MK11-2 Pallet Adapters. The offeror's submission should clearly describe his ability regarding welding processes in accordance with accepted Government or industrial standards. The offeror shall also provide a brief narrative explanation of how/why they believe their technical experience is relevant. Specifically, the offeror should provide information on his welding processes in accordance with accepted Government or industrial standards and his ability to weld small diameter rods in both butt joint and crosswire configurations for high strength applications. The offeror should also submit information about his ability to repetitively generate the above intermittent short bead welded joints without cracks, porosity or weld root termination defects as defined by the industrial standards referenced in the technical data package.

Factor 3: Past Performance: For the purpose of the Past Performance evaluation, "recent" is defined as occurring within the three years prior to the initial closing date of the solicitation. In addition, the Government has the right to consider information regarding contractor performance up to the date of award. "Relevant" is defined as the same or similar items within Federal Supply Class 8140 or requiring the same or similar manufacturing processes, skills and abilities. The Government reserves the right to determine whether an item is like or similar and whether production quantities apply to the current requirement for evaluation purposes. For verification purposes, the offeror shall furnish a point of contact/name, phone number, contract number and dollar value of recent, relevant contracts. The offeror shall also provide a brief narrative explanation of how/why they believe their experience and past performance information is relevant. Other sources available to the Government, other than the offeror's proposal may be used to gather and evaluate data relating to predetermined factors. Note: For the purpose of submitting Past Performance information, offeror should also include key subcontractors that will perform major or critical aspects of the requirement, team members, partners and other entities that comprise the offer.

Subfactor 3a: On-Time Delivery: The offeror shall provide information regarding recent, relevant past performance in the area of on-time of deliveries. The offeror must provide information for deliveries made, deliveries scheduled to be made, and deliveries re-scheduled to be made during the 3-year period of recent past performance. In addition, the Government has the right to consider information regarding contractor performance up to the date of award. The original delivery date will be compared to actual deliveries to determine whether deliveries were made on time. The offeror shall present his reasons as to why they did not meet the original delivery schedule with their original proposal. Past delivery performance demonstrating an on-time delivery record will be evaluated. Schedule delays caused by the Government will not negatively impact a contractor's rating. The offeror shall include all supporting information for verification purposes concerning all these covered deliveries, even though this supporting information may fall outside the 3-year period defined as recent above.

Subfactor 3b: Quality, Quality Deficiency Reports (QDRs) and/or Quality Program Problems: The offeror shall provide information on their recent and relevant performance in the area of quality assurance. Evidence of quality awards and/or quality certifications presented to the offeror can be submitted for consideration. The Government will evaluate all relevant quality issues that are discovered during the 3-year period of recent performance, regardless of when the actual delivery was made. In addition, the Government has the right to consider information regarding contractor performance up to the date of award. In the event that indications of problems are found, the offeror should submit data explaining their procedure to improve his process and/or product quality. The offeror shall include data explaining preventive actions that have been taken to improve his process and/or product quality. The offeror shall disclose information about Request for Deviations (RFDs), (Request for Waivers (RFWs), Quality Deficiency Reports (QDRs), Corrective Action Requests (CARs), First Article Test failures, and/or product quality or Quality Program related problems. The offeror's submission must be clear and concise when describing the deficiency and stating the corrective/preventive action, when it was implemented, and its effectiveness.
